“THE EMERALD PEAKS OF BORA BORA RISING OUT OF AN AQUAMARINE LAGOON ARE A SIGHT TO BEHOLD”

Tahiti

Like a Gauguin painting, the beauty of Tahiti and its people are the epitome of your imagined South Sea Island dream.

Visitors arriving by sea feel the same emotion that would have moved Captain Cook when he first spotted what is now known as Tahiti. He was delighted at how easy it was to navigate among these islands and sail into the various lagoons through the passes naturally made in the coral fringed reef.

The deep bright colours of sea and land are matched by the exquisite beauty of the tropical orchids, banquets of seafood and delectable sweet fruit. The sway of Tahitian hips clad in hula skirts transports you to the rhythm of island life that is as precious as a black pearl.
